He says he has had a number of fine dogs injured by them, he knows of many instances where fine sheep and other animals have been injured, and, beside, the trap is the most cruel instrument in use. He says a man who will treat an animal so cruel is mean as the devil, and he wants a law placing a heavy fine on any man who will "set" one.

The mid-winter meeting of the Kentucky Press Association will be held in Frankfort next Tuesday afternoon and evening and indications point to a large attendance. The main feature of the meeting will be an address by William L Vischer, the noted wit and humorous writer, of Chicago. Another feature will be an address by Hon A Y Ford, of Louisville. # Uncle Joe Hopper Better.

The many friends of Mr Paul Miller a midshipman at Annapolis, will be glad to know that he will likely be acquitted of the charge of "hazing," for which so many of the cadets have been arrested and are to undergo trial. Since his institution, Annapolis has been known as the greatest place for "hazing" in America, and every young man there has indulged in it. In fact, nothing was thought of the practice until recently when several cadets were injured. It was then that the authorities determined to stop it and many arrests followed. Miller is to graduate next month, and the daily papers say he will not fill below No 3 in the class of over a hundred. He is spoken of highly by the officers, as he has stood at the head of his classes each year.

Will Go To Panama.

Mr Ollie T Wallace, Jr., of this county, has accepted the position of private secretary to E S Benson, chief auditor of the canal commission. His regular headquarters will be in Washington, but he will accompany Mr Benson to Panama about the last of this month, where they will remain for several weeks. ## THE SECRET OF SUCCESS

"No Sir! You cannot palm off any substitutes on me. I've been using August Flower since I was a boy, and I'll have no other."

Forty million bottles of August Flower sold in the United States alone since its introduction! And the demand for it is still growing. Is there any secret of success? Doesn't it prove that August Flower has an unfailing success in the cure of indigestion and dyspepsia—the worst enemies of health and happiness? Does it not afford the best evidence that August Flower is a sure specific for all stomach and intestinal disorders?—that it is the best of all liver regulators?

August Flower has a matchless record of over 35 years in curing the ailing millions of those distressing complaints.

KILL PEACE CHIEFS.

CHEROKEES SLAY IN ANGER OVER TREATY.

Within Very Short Time Government of Once-Powerful Indian Tribe Will Be a Thing of the Past—Last Legislature.

Tahlequah, I. T.—A story recalling the old-time spirit of the Indians is being told by those who are discussing the coming passing away of the Cherokee Nation.

Tahlequah means "place of refuge." It was christened when the Cherokees after the pilgrimage from their old home east of the Mississippi settled here more than half a century ago. It was a tragedy marked by the wailing of women and children and feelings of intense anger on the part of the men.

Three of the chiefs who signed the treaty ceding the old home of the tribe to the government were put to death in one day. The fact that they had been able and loyal in their leadership did not count as against the great offense. Of one of these chiefs the right hand, which had signed the treaty, was cut off and thrown away before the death penalty was inflicted.

Ten years were consumed in the removal to this country. They came afoot, on horseback and in wagons. Bitter hardships were encountered and hundreds died on the way.

Spreading out from this valley they built homes in the wilderness. In time towns were established with good schools and most of the advantages that go with civilization. Courts and a legislature were organized and they were, in later days, attended with the corruption and favoritism that attends similar institutions in the states. But it was their government, and the people were devoted to it.

Within a few months it will pass away. The last chapter will be closed and these people who have for centuries had a distinctive existence will be absorbed in the flood of white immigration that is sweeping over the territory.

Chief W. C. Rogers has called the last session of the Cherokee legislature, to be held in the capitol building here in October. The members will close up the affairs of the nation and appoint three leading men to represent the Cherokees in the allotment of lands, which may not be completed for several years. The tribal government will go out of existence in March, 1906.

The Cherokees gave $500,000 worth of CINCINNATI, O.

To Hunters.

If you would know of a country which abounds in turkeys, duck, quail, squirrels and other small game, with many a good chance at deer, get copy of the new booklet, "Feathers and Fins on the Frisco." It tells about hunting and fishing in the Ozarks and in the St. Francis Valley. Sent free on request by A. Hilton, General Passenger Agent Frisco System, St. Louis, Mo.

school property. The part of it in which they take particular pride is the Cherokee female seminary, located on a wooded hill in the outskirts of this city, it cost $100,000 and is attended by 250 pupils. There are day and boarding schools throughout the nation, with an attendance of about 13,000 children. A text book on agriculture figures in the course of study.

There are 40,000 citizens of the Cherokee nation, of whom 7,000 are full bloods and 4,000 freed slaves and their descendants. They care at public expense for their orphans and insane. The latest report of their finances included these items: School fund, $623,065; general, $706,659; orphan, $380,344; insane asylum, $55,380.

An effort to turn back the tide, that gives no promise of success, is being made by the Katoohas, a society of full bloods.

GREEN PAPER WEDDING FEE

Brooklyn Man Discovers a Non-Freezing Powder Which May Revitalize Blasting.

New York.—Henry G. Nicoll, son of Court Attendant Nicoll, of the supreme court, Brooklyn, and an expert on rock-blasting, is the inventor of a recently perfected rock-blasting explosive known as Trojan non-freezing powder, which bids fair to supplant dynamite because of the increased power it exerts and the fact that it cannot be ignited by friction, fire or concussion but only by means of the electric button in connection with the detonating cap and will not freeze under any exposure.

Mr. Nicoll claims its advantages over dynamite are therefore evident.

A practical exhibition test on a large scale of the efficiency of the Trojan non-freezing powder as compared with that of nitro-glycerine dynamite was recently made, by the Allentown Nonfreezing Powder company in the large quarries near Allentown under the direction of young Mr. Nicoll, the inventor. The tests included the firing of a series of 16-foot holes charged alternately with the new powder and with dynamite of the same weight and grade and of mud capping blasts in removing large detached blocks of stone, which showed, it is said, the greater efficiency of the new explosive agent conclusively.

A HANDY BAG HOLDER.

Farmer Tells How He Made One Which Did Better Service Than Many Others.

A subscriber in Stephenson county, Illinois, writes to the Prairie Farmer, saying:

"I saw lately in your paper late an illustration of a bag holder which I think I can beat. I make a frame at the bottom of two-inch strip, 6x8 inches square, with a solid wood back. For my hopper I used sheet iron of an old binder, cutting it to slant out at the top on three sides so that it will be easy to shovel into. I then fastened one hook on each corner at the bottom to hang the bag on. A two-inch strip three feet long was then bolted on to the flat side of the hopper, and in this a number of holes were bored. This is finished my bagholder, and all I have to do is to hang it on a spike, using the different holes in the strip for this purpose, according to the size of the bag. The illustration shows the plan."

This is another of those little devices that is useful to the farmer. There are comparatively few things that are more useful than a good bag holder. Ordinarily two men are required to do the work that one man can do if he has a bag holder that is practical. It appears though our Stephenson county (Ill.) subscriber has a plan that will answer every purpose. Some will object to it on account of the hooks, and the liability of tearing the bag, but we venture even though there is some injury, that the damage will not be so great but what the top of the bag will last as long as will the bottom where it comes in contact with the floor.

EGYPTIAN CLOVER.

One of the Great Forage Plants of the Nile Valley Being Introduced Here.

Within the last few years there has been an important addition to our list of clovers in the form of Egyptian clover. It is one of the great forage

Dr. Drury, who raises hedges by steam, instantly saw that one Drury was alive and hastily put it in one of his incubators, which was promptly heated to an agreeable and stimulating temperature. Little Drury fell asleep and, awakening, became acquainted with his foster mother.

Mr. Drury thinks the baby fell into a stupor soon after birth and that it was revived by the warmth of the shoe box, where there was enough air for the needs of its puny lungs.

IS A MILLIONAIRE AGAIN.

"Swiftwater Bill," Noted Montana Character, Once More Finds Himself on "Easy Street."

Butte, Mont.—"Swiftwater Bill," at one time a well-known character in Montana, is on his feet again, and will probably become a millionaire for the second time in his meteoric career," said E. F. Willis of Fairbanks, Alaska.

"Yes, 'Swiftwater Bill' is struck it again, this time at Fairbanks," he added. "When I left he had some properties that were paying handsomely and the indications are that he will quit $2,000,000 to the good."

"Some years ago Bill cleaned up $345,000 in Alaska, but like many others who made fortunes quickly, he let the money slip through his fingers.

"In about one year after he became an accredited millionaire, 'Swiftwater Bill' was a pauper. Wine, women and cards brought his downfall."

"But he was game, and went back to work again, and for the second time Dame Fortune smiled in his direction.

He is on easy street now and will doubtless leave the north before long with a grip of dust."

Many Butte men remember "Swiftwater Bill" as the man who raised
